

13th international exar-conference, Saalburg,
Bad Homburg (G)
1th – 4th October 2015

Friday, October 2nd 2015

9:30-10:00 Einführungsvortrag Rüdiger Schwarz, Saalburg Roman Fort – 120 years of experimental archaeology

Reconstructive Archaeology

10:00-10:30: Wolfgang Lobisser, New experimental archaeological studies of bandceramic well constructions in MAMUZ – Lower Austrian Museum of Prehistory in Asparn an der Zaya

10:30-11:00: Coffee break

11:00-11:30: Kathrin Jaschke, Reconstruction of three craftsmen's houses in the Archaeological Park Xanten

11:30-12:00: Barbara Köstner, Gisela Michel, Straight off the Loom – weaving on a Roman on two-beam loom with an audience

12:00-12:30: Christiane Ochs, Lime kiln construction at Klein Körös: Students capture a German settlement

12:30-14:00 Lunch break

Experiment and trail

14:00-14:30: Anja Probst-Böhm, Knochenjob – bone tools and their functions

14:30-15:00: Hannes Lehar, Consumption of meat during animal sacrifice in the Greek Archaic Period – a pleasure???

15:00-15:30: Sebastian Ipach, Daniel Scherf, Experimental salt-production in early iron-age Briquetage using textiles.

15:30-16:00: Coffee break

16:00-16:30: Arne Döpke, Testing ancient roman catapults

16:30-17:00: Gül Sürmeli Hindi, Cees Passchier, Experimental studies to investigate the functioning of Roman aqueducts and water machines

17:00-17:30: Erica Hanning, Experimental Reconstruction of a 5/6th Century Updraft Kiln from Mayen, Germany

19:00 Reception at the Saalburg

Saturday, October 3rd 2015

Experiment and trail

9:00-9:30: Frank Wiesenberg, Rohglas, Fresh glass batch, mosaic glass, ribbed bowls and Roman window panes – selected results of the "Borg Furnace Project 2015" in the Archaeological Park Roman Villa Borg, Germany

9:30-10:00: Tobias Schubert, An experimental suggestion for a textile fitting of Merovingian square cloaks.

10:00-10:30: Andreas Klumpp, "Diz buoch sagt von guoter spise, daz machet die vnverichtigen koeche wise" – From recipe translation to interpretation

10:30-11:00: Coffee break

11:00-11:30: Fabian Brenker, Spot removal from textiles about 1500 AD

Theory and mediation

11:30-12:00: Angelika Ulbrich, The toolbox of an early medieval goldsmith

12:00-12:30: Michael Zülch, Experiment and Simulation

12:30-14:00: Lunch break

14:00-14:30: Sylvia Crumbach, A different look at the past – a tour with objects at the archaeological open-air museum Oerlinghausen

14:30-15:00: Maren Siegmann, All wrong?! Sence and nonsense of pearl making demonstrations with a modern gas burner

15:00-15:30: Andreas Sturm, Annoying Authenticity: Impetus of Living History

15:30-16:00: Coffee break

16:00: Annual meeting EXAR

18:30: BBQ evening at the Saalburg

Sunday, October 4th 2015

10:00-13:00: Guided tour at the Saalburg